Braeside Homestead welcomes changes under new stewardship

26 June 2024

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Braeside Homestead, located in the beautiful Southern Downs & Granite Belt Region is under new stewardship and embracing exciting changes to improve guest experience.

The heritage listed homestead was established in the mid-1870s by Queensland pastoralist William Allan and has since been fully restored to its original grandeur.

Experience luxury accommodation at its finest with The Residence, a newly available booking option at the Homestead. Once reserved exclusively for previous owners, The Residence is now open to all guests seeking a lavish stay.

Braeside has also launched an exciting online art gallery, allowing you to bring home a piece of Queensland's stunning countryside. With the rejuvenation of their gardens, showcasing organic expertise, Braeside is truly elevating its appeal.

Peter Homan, Queensland Country CEO, echoes this excitement as an enhancement of the already exceptional luxury experience.

"Braeside Homestead has long been synonymous with top-tier luxury experiences. With the addition of new accommodation, I am pleased to see even more offerings in the Southern Downs & Granite Belt Region,

"Steeped in history, Braeside offers a journey back in time, promising all of the modern comforts. The improvements are important for tourism in the region as it not only attracts more visitors but also showcases the unique heritage and beauty Queensland Country – in turn boosting local businesses and the economy." Mr Homan said.

New custodians of Braeside Homestead Richard and Karen McLean are excited to bring renewed enthusiasm to the property.

"As the new custodians of Braeside Homestead, we are thrilled to infuse fresh energy and innovative ideas into this historic venue. We're committed to honouring Braeside's rich heritage while introducing modern enhancements to elevate the guest experience.

Braeside has always been a place where history, nature, and community converge. While preserving the property's historical charm and natural beauty, we are focused on creating a space where guests can connect, celebrate, and enjoy.

The enhancements we've made so far, along with our future plans, will not only elevate the guest experience but also support and showcase the incredible work of our local community." Richard and Karen Mclean said.
